measuring student knowledge and skills a new framework for assessment achievement assessment has undergone a major shift from what some call a culture of testing to a culture of assessment nowadays a strong emphasis is placed on the integration of assessment and instruction on assessing processes rather than just products and on evaluating individual progress relative to each student s starting point this book addresses assessment issues in light of the present state of affairs the first part discusses new alternatives in the assessment of achievement in various subject areas focusing on agenda practice impact and evaluation of the assessment the second part deals with issues related to assessment of the learning process specifically questions concerning the assessment of individual differences in prior knowledge learning skills and strategies the key element in the ibo s educational philosophy theory of knowledge seeks to develop a coherent approach to learning which transcends and unifies the academic subjects and encourages appreciation of other cultural perspectives rapid and seemingly accelerating changes in the economies of developed nations are having a proportional effect on the skill sets required of workers in many new jobs work environments are often technology heavy while problems are frequently ill defined and tackled by multidisciplinary teams this book contains insights based on research conducted as part of a major international project supported by cisco intel and microsoft it faces these new working environments head on delineating new ways of thinking about 21st century skills and including operational definitions of those skills the authors focus too on fresh approaches to educational assessment and present methodological and technological solutions to the barriers that hinder ict based assessments of these skills whether in large scale surveys or classrooms equally committed to defining its terms and providing practical solutions and including international perspectives and comparative evaluations of assessment methodology and policy this volume tackles an issue at the top of most educationalists agendas signs of change assessment past present and future another time another place examinations then and now in the temple of literature in hanoi vietnam a series of stone stelae records the names of the handful of illustrious examination candidates who in each century passed the national examination to become a doctor of literature beginning in the 11th century the exams were conducted personally by successive kings who pursued confucian ideals that found expression in the enormous value placed on the pursuit of wisdom and learning in the 21st century we are both puzzled and impressed by this tradition puzzled by such an explicit commitment to a meritocracy in an essentially feudal society impressed by this enthusiasm for learning and the pursuit of wisdom at the highest level of society yet there are also important similarities between the 11th and 21st centuries then as now assessment was associated with excellence high standards pride and competition success for the chosen few disappointment for the majority then as now the pursuit of excellence was embedded in a social context that favoured the elite and determined success in terms of the predilections of the powerful then as now the purpose of the assessment the way it was conducted and its impact on society all reflected the social and economic priorities of the day in this article we are presenting the results of the research the connection between the results in the national assessment of knowledge and the pupils socio cultural environment instruction and homework taking place at the national education institute slovenia in the years 2008 2009 in the introduction we are writing the importance of national assessment of knowledge in the primary school and presenting its significance in certain european countries external knowledge assessment at the end of the primary school being at present in slovenia called national assessment of knowledge has got since 2005 2006 an information and formation significance the achievements in the national assessment of knowledge are not a part of the school mark but additional information on pupils knowledge in the central part of the article we are presenting the findings of the study on the interconnectedness of approaches to internal school testing and assessment of knowledge with the school success of pupils in the national assessment of knowledge in mathematics and slovenian language the research has shown that none of the single elements can have a decisive influence on the results by itself but rather interdependence between them a change of one element can influence the structure and efficiency of other elements thus their consistency is required the results also show that pupils make differences between teachers of mathematics or slovenian language i e a closer cooperation with mathematical teachers than with slovenian language teachers for complete volume see ed567040
